Rules and Regulations

- Should your script be selected for production, you will be notified immediately, and contracts will be sent out along with an information pack, the following working day.
- Burn Hand Film Productions regretfully can not return any scripts sent to us.
- All rights of scripts submitted are held by the scripts author, and agreements will be worked out upon notification that said script has been selected for production.
- All scripts received will be reviewed, and response will be given upon receipt of the script.
- All work received will have an in depth critical review from an industry professional sent to the author, regarding his or her work, as part of this response.
- All scripts must be original, or have prior rights to subject material obtained.
- No script should exceed 30,000 words.
- The turn-around time for a script review is between 14 and 28 days, depending upon script length.
- Any questions or queries please email: scriptreview@burnhandfilms.com

I agree to the rules and regulations as set out above: Signed:
